

Year 1 Home Learning Letter – 01.05.20

Hello super Year 1! We have found a dragon joke for you today! If you have got top jokes to share please send to them to us at the email address below.

We love to have a giggle! Have a lovely weekend.

Phonics	Play phonics noughts and crosses! Pick some of the words we have been reading this week and write them on a grid. Pick a square and if you can read the word you can cover it with a nought or a cross. Can you make it all the way across? How many squares can you read? Here is an example but you can choose your own words if you prefer:
	munch	strawberry	crumble
	scrunch	street	flight
	printing	bring	smile
Spelling		This evening we must delete these scenes. Practise on Spelling Shed and then ask someone to test you on the sentence. Challenge words: extreme, complete, athlete
Reading	Reading for 15 minutes – can you read dressed up in fancy dress today? We would love to see the photos!
Writing	Anyone Seen My Dragon? Today we are going to write our own Anyone Seen My? Poem. Use the sentence structure opposite and the words you have collected this week to write your own version of the poem. Don't worry about rhyming – as long as your poem describes your pet it will be great!  Anyone seen my _____ ? _____, _____ and _____ _____ the _____ Challenge: They _____ They _____ They'll _____ They'll _____
Handwriting	This week we are revising the fisher family. Practise your animal positions. Draw a tree and practise f and g. Why is g different to the rest?
Maths	Here are two dice. If you add up the dots on the top you'll get 7. Find two dice to roll yourself. Add the numbers that are on the top. What totals can you get? Can you find all of the possible totals? Why not play a game that involves adding 2 dice e.g. snakes and ladders.

Wider Curriculum

Choose from one of these 3 jobs	Smile! Can you make everyone in your house smile? You could tell them a joke, do something nice or make them something special.	PE Last weekend some people did the 2.6 challenge to mark the London Marathon. What can you do 26 times?	Creative What can you make with a toilet or kitchen roll tube? We thought of a rocket, binoculars, a caterpillar, a pen pot but you might have some better ideas!
