Discussion of the Week

What a busy week and half, leading us up our two INSET days. Staff will be busy having training and focusing on whole school development. We have welcomed lots of you in to school for parent consultations and lots of your feedback has been positive in terms of how well your children are progressing. Thank you for this feedback, it really helps us to continue to work together to develop our school. If you have not been able to attend, please make contact and a consultation can be arranged separately.

Be Bright Be Seen

I'd like to thank Mrs Dalton and the JRSOs for leading and organising such a bright day on Friday 22nd November. Angela Forsyth (our representative from Hampshire) was incredibly impressed that the whole of the Norman Rodaway car park was full of cars by 8.40am. Many of the children were impressed to meet Strider. Angela gave us some important messages in assembly, reminding us that walking from the Park and Stride is just as quick as walking from some of the less safe areas where cars also park. Traffic wardens were around again, and were issuing tickets to cars parked illegally. JRSOs gave some invaluable information in assembly about dressing brightly to be seen, so that even in the darker winter months, we can be safe when we are outside.

Our Christmas events need you!

It is an extremely busy time for the members of the TEAM Kings Cope group that do so much valuable work to help to support our school. With Adult Exclusion, the Grotto and also the Fayre coming up, please let someone on the committee or in the school office know if there is any time you have to spare to help out. The team would benefit from:

- 30 mins to run a stall between 3.30 and 5 on the 6th
- Any amount of time to help set up on the afternoon of the 6th
- Any amount of time to help with preparing the tombola stalls on Thursday 5th
- Any amount of time to help children select and wrap gifts at Adult Exclusion on 13th

YR have an even busier week than usual!

Zoolab came in to YR last Thursday along with some crawly visitors. The children also walked to our local Tesco's, buying the ingredients needed to create a teddy bear's picnic. These have been exciting and valuable opportunities for them and are only able to happen with your support. Thanks for this.

Have a great weekend!
